IN-HOUSE TEACHER TRAINING

Empowering Educators: In-House Training at KPS Durg

Krishna Public School, Durg, recently hosted a dynamic in-house teachers' training workshop, igniting passion for innovative teaching among our dedicated faculty. This initiative, designed to sharpen classroom skills, covered four pivotal areas: Classroom Management, Art Integration, Assessments, and English Speaking. Led by experienced in-house trainers, the session brought together over 50 teachers for hands-on learning and collaborative discussions. The first training was Classroom Management, where participants explored practical strategies to foster disciplined yet nurturing environments. Techniques like positive reinforcement, proactive routines, and conflict resolution equipped teachers to handle diverse learner needs effectively, turning challenges into opportunities for growth.

Next came Art Integration, a highlight that infused creativity into core subjects. Teachers experimented with blending visual arts, music, and drama into math, science, and language lessons. One activity had educators crafting storytelling murals to teach history, demonstrating how art boosts retention and engagement—proving Picasso was right: "Every child is an artist!"

Assessments delved into modern evaluation methods beyond traditional exams. Sessions focused on formative tools like rubrics, peer reviews, and digital quizzes, emphasizing fair, data-driven feedback. Teachers left with templates to track progress holistically, ensuring every student's potential shines through.

Finally, English Speaking honed communication fluency through interactive drills, role-plays, and pronunciation workshops. Fun phonetics games and debate simulations built confidence, empowering teachers to model eloquent expression for students.

Soft Hearts in a Hard World: Why Sensitivity Is Treated as a Weakness

People think being tough is better than being soft. They think it will somehow prepare them better for the “real world.” But that is, in fact, not the truth. Quite often, people mistake being sensitive for weakness, but these same individuals assume that being rough and harsh means you are superior or even more reliable. Those who feel intensely are told to toughen up, to grow thicker skin, as if softness were something to outgrow.

Sensitivity does not equal fragility; it is awareness. People ridicule those who are sensitive, labelling them as “too much” or “too weak,” but that is because sensitive people reflect what others avoid—the impact of harsh words and the weight of unprocessed emotions.

Yet history tells quite a different story. The soft-hearted are often the ones who listen when no one else will, who notice cracks before they become collapses, who create healing and connection where noise once lived. Their strength is not loud, but it is enduring. It lies in compassion without applause and courage without armour.

Sensitivity isn't weakness; it is the quiet power that survives when the noise burns itself out.

THE REAL WEALTH

Once upon a time, in a big city, there lived a wealthy businessman with his son.

The businessman wanted to show his son how poor people live. He thought about it and asked one of his workers for an idea.

The worker suggested that the businessman should send his son to a poor village so that he could observe the difference between rich and poor people. The businessman liked the idea. He asked his son to travel to the village using only public transport such as local buses, trains, and autos.

The boy followed his father's advice and travelled by public transport. When he reached the village, he looked around and saw greenery everywhere. There were trees, flowers, animals, and fresh air. The boy felt very happy.

He stayed for two days in a small farmhouse of a poor family. During his stay, he observed how the villagers grew their own food, fed their animals, and lived a simple life. He noticed everything carefully and enjoyed the peaceful environment of the village.

After two days, the boy was surprised to see his father come to the village. His father said, "Your visit to this poor village is over. Now let us go back home."

The boy sat in the car with his father. On their way home, the businessman asked his son,

"How was your trip to the poor village, and what did you learn from it?"

Moral of the Story

True wealth is not money, but happiness, nature, love, and simple living.

पेड़

धरती बोले पेड़ लगाओ पेड़ लगाओ,

संसार को सुंदर बनाओ।

मनुष्य पेड़ काट रहा है

धरती को सूना बना रहा है।

पेड़ धरती की शान है,

जीवन की मुस्कान है।

छाया ये ठंडक देते है,

फल भी इनपर भरपूर होते है।

एक -एक यदि हम पेड़ लगायें,

तो हम एक बगिया बनायें।

आओ मिलकर कसम खायें,

अपनी धरती हरी बनायें।

मैं सुनाती हूँ एक कहानी

मैं सुनाती हूँ एक कहानी,
कहती हूँ मेरी बहुत पुरानी।

कहते हैं सब मुझको आवाज़, बुरे निकल जाएँ शब्द, तो सब हो नाराज़।

कभी बादलों की गर्जन, तो कभी नदियों की रवानी हूँ।
मैं हर इंसान में छुपी, एक कहानी हूँ।

जब मेल हो सात सुरों का, गाना बन जाती हूँ।
लता मंगेशकर के गले में रहकर, सम्मान पाती हूँ॥

न तुम देख सकते हो, न छू सकते हो, मैं ऐसी चीज़ हूँ, जो बस महसूस कर सकते हो।

मैं उस निर्मल पानी की तरह हूँ, जो किसी भी प्रकार की भाषा में ढल जाए।

कभी सुरीली, तो कभी फट जाती हूँ।
हर मौसम में, नया अंदाज़ लाती हूँ।

मेरी वजह से है शान सबकी, चाहे देसी हो या विदेशी।

यहीं हूँ मैं बसी... यही है मेरी आस, मैं रहूँ सदा सब के पास।

THE TREE OF STRENGTH

In our backyard stands an ancient tree, its branches stretching towards the sky like giant arms.

I've grown up playing under its shade,
but recently, it's become more than just a tree.

Lately, I've been feeling overwhelmed with exams and personal struggles.

It feels like everything is piling up, and I don't know how to cope.

One day, I started visiting the tree, noticing how it weathers storms and stays green.

Its strength is inspiring, and I began to draw parallels between its resilience and my own life.

The tree becomes a symbol of hope, reminding me that I too can overcome obstacles.

I find solace in its presence, and its strength inspires me to keep going.

As I sit under its branches, I feel a sense of calm wash over me.
The tree's strength is a reminder that I'm not alone, and I can face whatever comes in my way.

The tree remains a constant source of strength,
a reminder of my own resilience and ability to overcome adversity.

IN BETWEEN

I stand in the in-between not a child not quite grown balancing questions
no one warned me about

I laugh loudly with friends, and fall silent alone wondering why being strong sometimes feels heavier than being honest

I want to be understood without explaining supported without being judged loved without conditions
I didn't agree to

So if you see me quiet or confused or trying again know this:

My thoughts race ahead of me
then suddenly stop like they're waiting for permission to exist

Everyone says, "this will pass,"
but no one tells you how long a moment feels when you're living inside it

Some days I doubt myself
Some days I surprise myself and some days
just getting through feels like an achievement

I'm not weak
I'm growing and growth is never quiet even when it happens inside....

संस्कार : शिक्षा की सच्ची पहचान

कक्षा में बैठा एक विद्यार्थी जब जिज्ञासापूर्वक पूछता है— “मैम, क्या यह जीवन में काम आएगा?” —तो वह केवल किसी पाठ की उपयोगिता नहीं, बल्कि जीवन के गहरे अर्थ को जानना चाहता है। यह प्रश्न हमें आत्ममंथन के लिए प्रेरित करता है कि क्या शिक्षा का उद्देश्य केवल परीक्षाओं में सफलता दिलाना है, या फिर जीवन को सही दिशा देना भी उसका दायित्व है। वास्तव में, शिक्षा की सच्ची पहचान तब बनती है जब वह संस्कारों से जुड़ती है। एक दिन कक्षा में एक विद्यार्थी ने निडर होकर अपनी गलती स्वीकार कर ली। उस क्षण शिक्षक ने दंड के स्थान पर संवाद और समझदारी का मार्ग चुना। उस एक निर्णय ने विद्यार्थी को यह सिखा दिया कि सत्य स्वीकार करना कमजोरी नहीं, बल्कि चरित्र की दृढ़ता का प्रमाण है। यही संस्कारयुक्त शिक्षा है, जो पुस्तकीय ज्ञान के साथ मानवीय मूल्यों का भी निर्माण करती है।

आज का युग तीव्र प्रतिस्पर्धा का युग है, जहाँ आगे बढ़ने की होड़ में संवेदनशीलता और नैतिकता अक्सर पीछे छूट जाती हैं। ऐसी स्थिति में यदि शिक्षा के साथ संस्कार जुड़े हों, तो विद्यार्थी न केवल सफल व्यक्ति बनते हैं, बल्कि समाज के प्रति उत्तरदायी नागरिक भी बनते हैं।

शिक्षक दीपक की भाँति मार्ग प्रकाशित करता है और विद्यार्थी उस प्रकाश में अपना पथ चुनता है। जब शिक्षक का अनुभव और विद्यार्थी की जिज्ञासा एक-दूसरे से जुड़ते हैं, तब शिक्षा केवल औपचारिक प्रक्रिया नहीं रह जाती, बल्कि जीवन को सँवारने वाली शक्ति बन जाती है।

निस्संदेह, संस्कारों से युक्त शिक्षा ही व्यक्ति, समाज और राष्ट्र की सच्ची पहचान है।

जब शिक्षक का अनुभव और विद्यार्थी की जिज्ञासा मिलती है, तब शिक्षा सार्थक बनती है।

Motivational Message

Dear Students,

As you turn the pages of this school magazine, you are also turning important pages in your own lives. The age you are in right now—16 to 17 years—is a time of growth, self-discovery, and decision-making. It is a stage where dreams begin to take shape and where the habits you form slowly start defining the person you will become.

Education at this stage is not only about textbooks, examinations, and grades. It is about learning how to think independently, how to question wisely, and how to face challenges with courage. Success is not achieved overnight, and failure is not something to fear. Every mistake teaches you a lesson, and every effort you make moves you one step closer to your goal. What matters most is your willingness to learn, improve, and never give up.

Remember that each one of you is unique. Do not compare your journey with others. Some may shine in academics, some in sports, arts, leadership, or kindness. True success lies in recognizing your strengths and working honestly on your weaknesses. Discipline, consistency, and a positive attitude will take you much further than talent alone.

As students, you also carry the responsibility of building a better society. Be respectful to your teachers, parents, and peers. Show empathy, help one another, and stand up for what is right. Small acts of kindness, honesty, and respect can leave a lasting impact on the world around you.

Believe in your dreams, but also believe in the value of hard work. Set goals for yourself, stay focused, and use your time wisely. The future belongs to those who prepare for it today. Never stop asking questions, never stop learning, and never stop believing in yourself.

We, your teachers, are proud to guide you on this journey. May this magazine reflect your creativity, confidence, and enthusiasm. Continue to grow not only as successful students, but as responsible, compassionate, and confident individuals.

Wishing you a bright future and success in all your endeavors.

संस्कृत कविता

कविता : जीवनपथः

जीवनं कर्मभूमिर्हि,
कर्मणेव हि शोभते।
सत्कर्मपथगामी यः, स एव लोके पूज्यते॥

पद्य 1 का अर्थ

जीवनं कर्मभूमिर्हि...

यह जीवन कर्म करने की भूमि है।
मनुष्य अपने कर्मों से ही शोभायमान होता है।
जो व्यक्ति सदा अच्छे कर्मों के मार्ग पर चलता है, वही संसार में आदर और सम्मान पाता है।

सत्यं वद, धर्मं चर,
गुरुजनान् सदा नम।
विद्या दीयते बुद्धिः, तमसो नाशयत्यपि॥

पद्य 2 का अर्थ

सत्यं वद, धर्मं चर...

सदा सत्य बोलो और धर्म के मार्ग पर चलो।
गुरुजनों को हमेशा सम्मानपूर्वक नमन करो।
विद्या बुद्धि प्रदान करती है और अज्ञान रूपी अंधकार को नष्ट कर देती है।

परिश्रमो हि मन्त्रः स्यात्, सफलतायाः सुनिश्चितः।
न भयेन न शोकैः, मार्गात् कदापि विचलति॥

पद्य 3 का अर्थ

परिश्रमो हि मन्त्रः स्यात्...

परिश्रम ही सफलता प्राप्त करने का मंत्र है।
सफलता निश्चित रूप से परिश्रम से मिलती है। मनुष्य को न भय से
और न ही शोक से अपने मार्ग से कभी विचलित होना
चाहिए।

सेवया करुणया चैव,
मानवः मानवो भवेत्।
स्वहितं यदि त्यक्त्वा स्यात्, जगद्धिते रमेत् सदा॥

पद्य 4 का अर्थ

सेवया करुणया चैव...

सेवा और करुणा के भाव से ही
मनुष्य सच्चा मानव बनता है।
यदि व्यक्ति अपने स्वार्थ को त्यागकर
सदैव जगत के हित में कार्य करे, तो उसका जीवन सार्थक हो जाता है।

Click, Create and Shine in the Digital World

The world today runs on clicks, codes, and curiosity. Every time you open a computer or touch a screen, you step into a universe full of ideas, information, and imagination. Technology is no longer just a subject — it is a powerful magic wand in your hands.

With this wand, you can design animations, write stories, solve problems or explore space. But just like every magic power, technology too demands wisdom. A single click can create — and sometimes, it can harm. That is why being smart online matters as much as being skilled online.

Think before you post. Respect before you react. Protect your privacy as you would your most precious treasure. Remember, real intelligence is not only in using gadgets, but in using them responsibly, kindly, and thoughtfully.

The future is waiting for your ideas. So keep clicking, keep creating, and let your imagination shine — both online and offline.

TEACHER'S CORNER

DO YOU KNOW WHAT BREAKS A PARENT'S OR TEACHER'S HEART MORE THAN ANYTHING ELSE ?

It's not when you fail.

It's not when you make a mistake.

We expect those. We made them too.

What breaks our's hearts is when you throw away your future.

When you choose comfort over discipline.

When you settle for good enough instead of giving your best.

We don't push you because we want control.

We push you because we have seen where easy road leads.

And it's nowhere you wanna go.

Yes , we make you to study.

Yes, we tell you to stay away from certain friends.

Yes, we tell you to get up, to work hard,
to keep going even when you don't feel like it.

Not because we enjoy watching you struggle.

But because the world outside this home will not go easy on you.

And if we don't prepare you now,

Life will break you later.

Discipline feels like pain today, but tomorrow it will look like love.

One day you'll understand that every rule, every curfew, every hard conversation wasn't about control.

It was about love. Because the truth is, we'd rather have you hate us for a season
than lose yourself for a lifetime.

Than lose yourself for a lifetime.
